BASEBALL

Jackson's baseball players ran up against two defeats last Sunday—an hitherto unparalleled occurrence. At Zeila park the first team contested with the Carmichaels of Sacramento. This was the second contest between these two teams, the first being a victory for the capital city boys. The game Sunday went the same way with a score of 6 to 4 in favor of Sacramento. We are unable to give the official score, for the reason that the local players do not keep an official record of their doings. The score book in which the record is kept is private property, and deemed to be too sacred for inspection.

The second nine went to West Point last Sunday, to try conclusions with the ball tossers of that mountain camp. They also met with defeat, the score being 7 to 3 in favor of the West Pointers. The second nine conducts its business in approved fashion; keeps an official score of all games, which score is open to the press for inspection and publication. Hence we are able to give the score, as follows:

Death of Martin P. Fitzgerald

Martin, son of M. Fitzgerald, departed this life at his home near Volcano, on the 16th of July. He was the third child of Mr and Mrs M. Fitzgerald of Volcano, where he was born, Dec. 12, 1884.

His early life was passed at his home near Volcano, until last year, then going to Arizona, working at the mines, afterwards coming home for the holidays, and remaining until engaged in mining business with his brother and Albert Oneto, where he was overcome with powder smoke on July 15th and his death followed the next day. The news of his death was a painful shock to his relatives and many friends.

His remains were entered in the Rancharia cemetery last Sunday. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. Many relatives and friends attended him to his last resting place. Our heartfelt sympathy is extended to the father, mother, seven brothers and five sisters, who are left to mourn. We can only comfort them by reminding them that he has gone to that land in which there is no sorrow, pain nor parting, and his life on earth has been such as to win for him the admiration and respect of all who knew him.

We miss thee from our home, dear,
We miss thee from thy place,
A shadow o'er life is cast,
We miss the sunshine of thy face.
We miss thy kind and willing hand,
Thy fond and earnest care,
Our home is dark without thee,
We miss thee everywhere.

Father Walsh Drew a Big Audience

The announcement that Father Walsh, an eloquent priest of the Paulist fathers would conduct services in St. Patrick's church last Sunday morning, drew a crowded congregation. The priest is well known in this vicinity, having visited friends in this neighborhood at different times, and besides he has gained a reputation as one of the most eloquent and entertaining preachers connected with the church. Every seat and all available space was occupied, by those anxious to hear the gifted orator. His discourse was in relation to the sacrament of the Lord's supper, and fully maintained his reputation.

Sees Mother Grow Young

"It would be hard to overstate the wonderful change in my mother since she began to use Electric Bitters," writes Mrs W. L. Giphatrik of Danforth, Me. "Although past 70 she seems really to be growing young again. She suffered untold misery from dyspepsia for 20 years. At last she could neither eat, drink nor sleep. Doctors gave her up and all remedies failed till Electric Bitters worked such wonders for her health." They invigorate all vital organs, cure liver and kidney troubles, induce sleep, impart strength and appetite. Only 50c at Spagnoli's Drug Store.

MINING NOTES.

Bunker Hill.—On the 15th the Bunker Hill paid two dividends of 3 cents per share each, six cents per share in all, amounting to a total of $12,000. The output of the mill for the month of June was over $21,000, over $1000 per stamp. From a detailed statement of the operations for the six months ending July 1st, we are able to present the following summary:

Value of bullion produced	$81,740.23
Sulphurets sold	19,192.07
Sulphurets in mill	12,048.58
Interest and other sources	1,371.03
	$114,351.91
The expenses were:
Mine and mill labor	$41,270.90
Supplies	21,006.39
Dividends	42,000.00
Amount added to surplus	9,174.02
	$114,351.91

Surplus Jan. 1, 1909 $56,676.35
Added to surplus in 6 mo 9,174.02

Surplus July 1 - $65,850.37
Showing a net gain of over $1500 per month after expenses and dividends are paid.
Sulphurets in mill Jan. 1st $1,571.78
" " July 1st 16,920.36
Tons of ore crushed - 16,844.
Net extraction $6.80 per ton.

Amador Queep.—George Hambric, Theo Crocker and J. Holtz, who are working a portion of the Amador Queen property in Hunt's gulch on a lease, are shipping a carload of ore to the Selby works for reduction. It is expected that the rock will yield about $40 per ton, which will leave a good margin of profit. Harvey Clark is hauling the ore to Martell for shipment.

Kennedy Extension.—The company operating this claim, commonly known as the Muldoon mine, and located a short distance south of the Argonaut mill, are working on the old shaft sunk about 15 years ago to the depth of nearly one thousand feet. It is the intention to clean out the shaft, and repair it clear to the bottom, and sink deeper.

South Eureka.—This mine, which has bled the pockets of its stockholders nearly twenty years, is fairly launched on the wave of prosperity that promises to repay the present lucky holders for all the money that has been dumped into the mine during the protracted period of unproductiveness. Many stockholders, wearied with the apparently endless assessments, were led to sacrifice their stock at the very last assessment that was levied, and just before the bonanza ore was encountered. Some sold for five cents per share. Now bidders are offering over $1, with no sellers in sight at such figures. It is said an eighteen foot ledge of rich ore has been struck, and that the clean-up for May yielded over $40,000. The payment of dividends is looked for immediately.

A Gambling Mix-Up.

Wednesday morning, just before stage time, a fracas occurred on Main street, growing out of a gambling adventure of the previous night. From what information we are able to glean of the affair, it appears that a stranger, evidently of the gambling fraternity, arrived in Jackson a day or two before, from Gillett, Colorado. He made the rounds of the gambling resorts, and on Tuesday evening tackled the roulette wheel in the Garibaldi saloon, operated by A. Pera. He started in a loser, and his losses finally ran up to about $80.

At this point he showed an inclination to quit. He reconsidered this, however, and drew out another $20, and started playing again. Luck, or whatever you may please to call it, set in steadily in favor of the player. He not only won back all that he had lost, but ran up a balance of about $250 besides, and quit winner of that snug sum. A good deal of it being in silver, he went up to the bar to change it for less bulky money, throwing a quantity of the coin on the bar. At this point, so it was reported, the roulette dealer appeared, naturally chagrined at the heavy drain the stranger had made upon his bank roll, and claimed that the machine had been fixed to win, finally grabbing a quantity of the coin on the bar. The stranger gathered up the rest and left. Wednesday morning he prepared to leave. Shortly before stage time the roulette proprietor, still smarting over his losses, called him from the National hotel steps and as soon as he got near enough struck him with his fist in the face. The man from Colorado went to pick up a rock from the street, for the purpose of returning the compliment. Bystanders interfered, and the encounter ended. The Colorado man, however, was not disposed to let the matter drop in this fashion. He notified the roulette man that unless he returned the money he grabbed from the bar the night before he would prefer a criminal charge against him. The report is that the coin was returned. The stranger left by the stage that morning.

Gamblers were notified to leave, and have left, and most of the games have suspended.

Fourth July Platform Bought.

The fourth of July committee has disposed of all the lumber used in the recent celebration. It cost $723. This sum included all the lumber in the two platforms, also that used in arches, etc. It was thought that as secondhand lumber it might bring 50 cents on the dollar of its first cost. Finally, Domenico Giannini, of the Belluomini ranch, purchased the whole outfit for $312, the purchaser to take the structures down and remove the material from the ground at his own expense. The work of tearing down the big platform was commenced Monday morning. The price paid is considered very fair both for the committee and the purchaser. Giannini had his dwelling house on the ranch destroyed by fire last year, and since that time has been living in town with his family. With the lumber bought he intends to rebuild on the ranch, and move his family there again.

Big Bar Bridge.

The following action, as reported in the published minutes, was taken at the last meeting of the board of supervisors of Calaveras county in regard to the proposition of purchasing the Big Bar toll bridge.

The report of the appraisers selected to appraise the valuation of the Big Bar toll bridge crossing Mokelumne river at a point known as Big Bar, on the public road leading from Mokelumne Hill in Calaveras county to Jackson in Amador county, was submitted to the board. The valuation of said bridge as shown by the appraisement was $800.

Upon motion duly made and by unanimous vote of the board, further action in relation to the purchase of said bridge was continued until the next regular meeting of the board.

From this it seems no joint meeting of the supervisors of Amador and Calaveras has been arranged to consider the matter. Nothing was done by the Amador board at the last meeting.

Over Thirty-Five Years

In 1872 there was a great deal of diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera infantum. It was at this time that Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment, and has for thirty-five years maintained that record. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by Jackson Drug Store, Spagnoli, prop.

Editorial Column.

PRESIDENT TAFT WANTS TARIFF LOWERED.

President Taft has conveyed a strong intimation to congress that he will not look with favor upon any tariff bill that does not fulfill the pledges of the party contained in republican national platform for a downward revision, at the same time keeping steadily in view the fundamental idea of protection of home industries, and the wages of the working classes. The senate has materially modified the schedule of rates in the bill as received from the house of representatives, restoring in a number of instances the duties to almost the same rates as under the Dingley bill. This does not suit the notions of the element that has been clamoring for lower rates, although it meets the views of the stand-patters, who constitute a powerful element in the party. The idea that because the country has enjoyed a period of unparalleled prosperity under the present tariff, therefore tariff-tinkering is not advisable at this time, is not a conclusive argument. It is the repetition of the old cry of "Let well enough alone,"—a will-o'-the-wisp call that may easily be followed too far. Tariff duties based on protective lines are not designed to be fixities. They are supposed to change with changing circumstances. When experience demonstrates that the custom duties are in excess of the demands of home industries, and tend to enable the domestic manufacturer to reap inordinately high profits, the time has come to lower the duty on such articles as fall within this category. Of course, there will be a difference of opinion as to whether or not we have reached this point. The manufacturers interested will answer "No," and will use all their influence to prevent reduction. Tariff revision is far from being a simple task. That there should be a sharp division of sentiment even among protectionist legislators is not surprising.

It is reported that the president favors placing a number of articles, designated as raw materials, on the free list. This means the abandonment of the protection principle so far as these articles are concerned. This policy is based on the contention that the manufacturers concerned in such materials no longer need the aid of tariff duties in their business. The list embraces iron, coal, hides, oil, and a number of other so-called raw materials. We do not believe it will command the approval of the masses of the republican voters to throw the doors of the American market wide open to outside competition in this way. The cattle man, with whom the hide is a finished product, is entitled to consideration. So is the lumberman, whose output comprises only rough lumber. It is proving a very difficult task to revise tariff rates which have proved effectual in building up our commercial prosperity in a manner that will be satisfactory to all interests.

THE SWEATING SYSTEM.

A strong opposition is being developed against the practice of refined torture resorted to in order to extort confessions from persons charged with crime. While in this new species of cruelty personal violence is not called into play; it is if anything more oppressive and contrary to the spirit of our institutions than the thumb screw and rack practiced in bygone ages in the ferreting out of crime. The outcome of this agitation will be the abolition of all such methods in the prosecution of criminals. The people as a whole do not look with favor upon criminal methods in the effort to convict criminals. Better that a few offenders go unpunished than that practices revolting to all sense of justice should be countenanced by officials in their desire to make criminals convict themselves. In some states it has been found necessary to pass severe laws against the sweating process in all its varied forms. It ought to be stamped out in every state, and any official resorting to it should be made to forfeit his office.

MODERN TROGLODYTES.

The Matmata, the Cave Dwellers of Tunisia, Africa.

One of the strangest of capital cities is that of the troglodytes, or Matmata, the cave dwellers of Tunisia, Africa. It contains about 3,000 inhabitants, and the principle of its architecture is to dig into the earth rather than to build upon it. These troglodytes are to be found between the town of Gabes, on the Tunisian coast, and the sand hills of the Sahara. The country is a high, rocky plateau, barren, sun baked and swept by the sirocco. When a Matmata wants a new dwelling he chooses his spot, traces a circle and then digs until he has reached the desired depth, which varies according to the number of stories he requires.

The rooms consist of caves hollowed out in the sides of the circular pit, the bottom of which forms a patio, or courtyard, which is the usual feature of a Moorish house. Besides the rooms, a passage is also dug, communicating with the outside world, and a door is made at the outer end.

The soil, which is a kind of malleable clay, is easily cut and lends itself well to excavation, the roof of each room requiring no support as long as it is arched. These underground dwellings are not damp.—Chicago News.

POSITION FOR SLEEP.

A Variety of Opinions Among Eminent French Medical Men.

A number of eminent French medical men have given their opinion to the Matin of Paris on what they consider the healthiest position for sleep.

Dr. Delorme, army medical inspector, declares that the natural position is to lie flat on one's back. Professor Debone and Dr. Daveniere of the School of Hygiene are of the same opinion and point out that lying on either side causes pressure of the arm, which may eventually bring about paralysis.

Dr. Landouzy of the medical faculty says that the best position is the most comfortable position, and this is acquired by habit. It would be well, however, to accustom oneself to sleep on the right side. Dr. Letulle of the Medical academy maintains emphatically that the sleeper should always lie on the right side and thus avoid indigestion and heart troubles.

In startling contradiction comes a statement from a heart specialist, Dr. Huchard; "I always sleep on my left side, and I think it is quite immaterial whether you lie on your left or right side. The idea, however, that those who cannot lie on the left side suffer from heart affection is quite erroneous."

What Brown Did.

Mrs. and Mr. Brown—that isn't the usual way of putting it, but it was the way they ranked—had been invited to a party where, Mrs. Brown understood, there was to be a host of literary lions. Mrs. Brown is an extremely handsome woman and just enough of a coquette to attract men about her wherever she goes.

Not long after they had arrived Mrs. Brown had four men around her, while Brown was pretending to be interested in some books scattered around on a corner table. Mrs. Brown inquired of the men in turn as to just what sort of literature they produced. One confessed he was a coffee broker, another was a doctor, the third was a machinery salesman. The fourth man admitted cheerfully that his only service to literature was reading books and newspapers. At this point Brown joined the group, and the coffee broker suggested to the lady that she might ask the newcomer what he did.

"Oh," remarked Mrs. Brown, placing B. at once in the discard, "he's my husband."—Exchange.

Extinct.

"Bessie," said the teacher of the class which taught all about birds—in the school prospectus it was called the "ornithological division"—"give me the name of one bird which is now extinct."

Bessie wrinkled her brows.

"What's extinct, please?" she asked.

"No longer existent," explained the teacher. "Can you name one?"

"Yes," piped Bessie readily. "Dick."

"Dick—Dick?" repeated the teacher.

"And what kind of bird is a 'Dick,' please?"

"Our canary," answered Bessie. "The cat exterminated him."

Marquis.

The designation marquis is the second in the five orders of English nobility. The term originally indicated persons who had the care of the marches of a country. The word marches is the plural of mark, which in its political sense signifies boundaries. Such were the lands on the borders of England and Scotland and of England and Wales.

Early Football Players.

Football was for many years the national game of Florence. The season was from January to March, and the ladies and gentlemen of Florence and the populace as well went to assemble on the Piazza Santa Gioe to witness the game, which was called "calcio," from the word meaning "to kick." The last game was played in 1739.

The Amador Ledger will give to every candidate in the GRAND PRIZE CONTEST who turns in to this office Six Subscriptions, old or new, paid in advance, an EXTRA BALLOT OF 5000 VOTES. The subscriptions to be turned into this office between July 24 and July 30, at 8 p. m. The subscriptions will count for the regular number of votes besides the 5000 extra votes. Do you fully understand what the securing of this extra ballot means to you? It is presumed that only a few of the more ambitious candidates will secure the desired number, and if you do you will have an advantage over the others that will not be easily overcome.

It is not too late to enter your names. Contestants can enter up to the last, but those who enter early have the best chance.

Grand Capital Prize, a magnificent Kimball piano, to the one receiving the greatest number of votes.
Six Free Trips to Portola Festival or Santa Cruz, two for each district, to ladies receiving most votes therein

DIVISION OF DISTRICTS.

In order that the Competition for prizes may be evenly divided, the field of the Ledger has been divided into Three Districts, as follows:

Dist. No. 1—Township 1, including all of the City of Jackson.
Dist. No. 2—Townships 2 and 4 including Lone, Sutter Creek Amador.
Dist. No. 3—Townships 3 and 5.

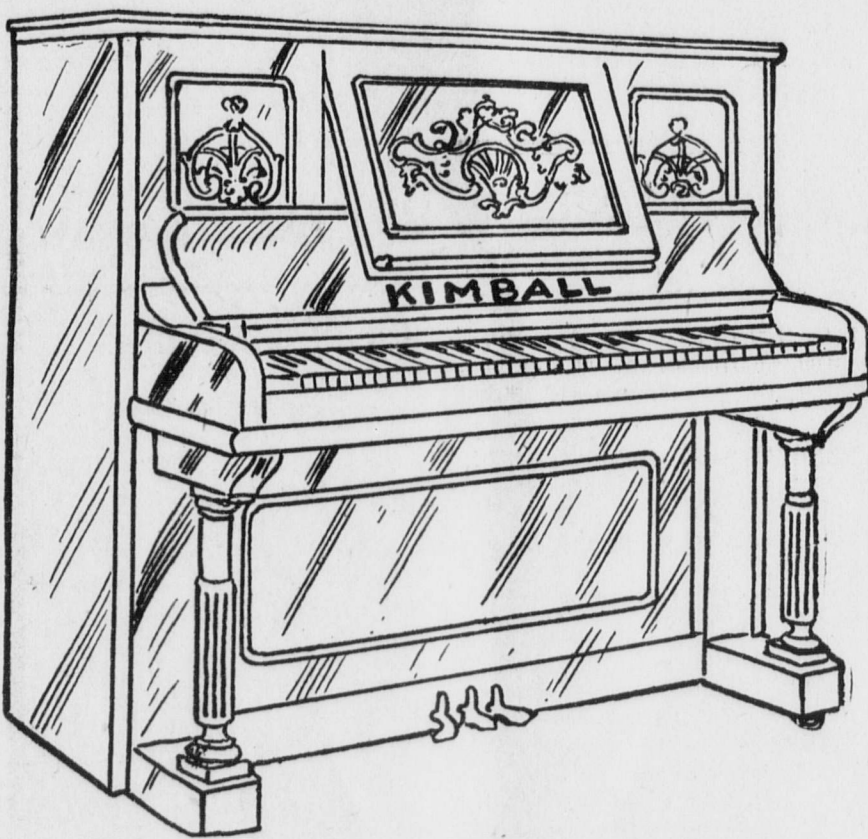

VOTING POWER OF SUBSCRIPTIONS.

LEDGER'S BIG VOTING CONTEST

Grand Piano and 6 Free Trips to Successful Candidates

Great Offer of Ledger to Its Many Readers.

From to-morrow until Friday July 30, at 8 P. M., 5000 extra votes will be given to every candidate who brings to this office six paid-in-advance yearly subscriptions, either old or new. This is in addition to the regular number of votes given on subscriptions, a two-year's subscription counting the same as two yearlies.

TIME TO HUSTLE.

Just a little energy and hustle on the part of the candidate will land one of the special ballots and may be it will take just these 5000 vote to be declared the winner of the piano, THE GRAND CAPITAL PRIZE, so put in your best efforts now while this offer is on.

As soon as money is paid on a subscription send or bring it to the office, together with the stub from the receipt book, properly filled out, with the name and address of the subscriber. Vote certificates will then be issued and sent to you by return mail.

These may be voted at any time during the contest, and the votes are not placed to the credit of the contestant until the certificates are placed in the ballot box. Remember, these certificates are the votes themselves and not the receipt for votes.

Read the full particulars of this offer on this page. Do not overlook it, as it may mean one of the prizes at the end of the contest for you.

The big Ledger contest is now underway and the various candidates and their friends are busy securing votes and subscriptions from every source. Of course the contest is not as yet far enough along for any one contestant to have secured very much of a lead, although there are a number of the ladies who have not started in very strong as yet, yet there are a few who have started to build up a reserve fund, which will come in very useful later in the race. JUST THINK—$800.

Eight hundred dollars is a lot of money to give away but that is just what the Ledger is doing when they give away this amount to advertise the AMADOR LEDGER.

The Ledger is a good paper and everybody knows it and everybody wants it if they possibly can, so as a means of advertising the paper thoroughly they are giving away this amount in prizes, not all in one prize, but in several, and every one of them worth a special effort on the part of the candidate.

VALUE RECEIVED

A few dollars cannot be better invested than in purchasing The Ledger for one year, as for every cent spent in the contest there is value given for the amount received. Take the Ledger for a year and help some lady whom you think would appreciate a prize to the value of $500.

The candidates in all the districts are on the lookout for votes every minute of the day, and do not lose an opportunity to secure a subscription, which means additional votes towards winning the beautiful piano.

A piano is one of the best prizes we could pick out for a grand prize, as an instrument of this kind should be in every home to make it complete. "What is home without music?" And here is one of the best opportunities to get one for just a little work on your part. No other paper in this territory has ever gone through with such an undertaking before, and we are sure that the young ladies of this county appreciate the opportunity of winning a trip to the beaches or a piano.

THE KIMBALL PIANO

Is used in hundreds of schools, conservatories and other public institutions and endorsed by a vast number of artists and teachers who use it in their public and private work.

The Kimball is an instrument possessing every quality that makes for marked elegance in a piano. This excellence is best seen in the handsome case designs—best heard in its exquisite tone and best appreciated by the long years of service that it gives to the owner.

ARE YOU GOING TO TAKE ONE OF THESE TRIPS

All that is needed to win one of these trips is the determination to win and then the industry to get about it.

"Faint heart ne'er won fair lady"—just a few words in regard to the trips to Santa Cruz. The city of Santa Cruz lies just within the shelter of the point which separates the bay from the ocean. Its bathing beach is a half mile of fine sand, free from undertow, and is justly esteemed the finest bathing on the Pacific coast. Among its amusements, for this is what the young ladies who will make this trip are looking for, is its Casino, bathing Establishments, Pleasure Pier, and the facilities for bathing, boating and fishing are not surpassed, the Casino and Natatorium, built in 1906, having cost over $860,000. The young ladies making the trip to San Francisco Portola week will have one round of pleasure for the week, as the city of San Francisco, together with the Native Sons and Daughters, are going to make this one of the biggest celebrations of its kind ever attempted on the Pacific coast, and as it comes on the closing of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition at Seattle, one of the largest crowds ever seen in the city will be present.

Nearly the whole city has been reserved for that week, and we have been to a great deal of trouble to get reservations for our guests. The parades will be the most elaborate and most spectacular of any ever arranged in this country. It is proposed at the present writing to hold three parades, each with its own particular idea different from the others. The decorations and illuminations of the Spanish carnival type, will be more extensive and more elaborate than any similar occasion in the United States, as the city is known the world over for its wonderful illuminations.

COME IN NOW

To the contest office and get receipt books to give to your friends so that they can get votes and subscriptions for you. You have no idea how many thousand votes you can secure in this manner, and your friends will be only too willing to take a book and help you along.

Better Not Get Dyspepsia

If you can help it. Kodol prevents Dyspepsia, by effectually helping Nature to Relieve Indigestion. But don't trifle with Indigestion.

A great many people who have trifled with indigestion, have been sorry for it—when nervous or chronic dyspepsia resulted, and they have not been able to cure it. Use Kodol and prevent having Dyspepsia.

Everyone is subject to indigestion. Stomach derangement follows stomach abuse, just as naturally and just as surely as a sound and healthy stomach results upon the taking of Kodol.

When you experience sourness of stomach, belching of gas and nauseating fluid, bloated sensation, gnawing pain in the pit of the stomach, heart burn (so-called), diarrhoea, headaches, dullness or chronic tired feeling—you need Kodol. And then the quicker you take Kodol—the better. Eat what you want, let Kodol digest it.

Ordinary pepsin "dyspepsia tablets," physics, etc., are not likely to be of much benefit to you, in digestive ailments. Pepsia is only a partial digester—and physics are not digesters at all.

Kodol is a perfect digester. If you could see Kodol digesting every particle of food, of all kinds, in the glass test-tubes in our laboratories, you would know this just as well as we do.

Nature and Kodol will always cure a sick stomach—but in order to be cured, the stomach must rest. That is what Kodol does—rests the stomach, while the stomach gets well. Just as simple as A, B, C.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say, that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. LOCAL NEWS

J. F. Wilson, Dentist. Hours 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Phone—Office, black 444; residence, Black 394; Jackson. Rent will be charged on idle meters, and after 60 days they will be removed without notice. B. E. Letang.

Mrs. Ward, who has been visiting in this city for the past month, left Tuesday for Lake county.

Allan Knight, an expert accountant, was here the early part of the week, looking into the books of the Amador county bank, in accordance with the resolution of the board of directors at their last meeting. It was a matter of form, and for checking purposes only. Of course everything was found in fine condition. He left for the city Wednesday morning.

Steve Gironetti, a miner employed at the Kennedy, was severely hurt by a cave on Sunday morning last. His left leg was fractured close to the hip, and the left arm badly torn. The scalp was also cut. He is being treated by Dr. Gall. He is likely to be disabled from work for a couple of months.

James Avice, one of the old settlers on the south fork, over 80 years of age, is suffering from an attack of grippe.

Dr. J. D. Fogarty, dentist, Jackson. Office in Kay's building, Main street. Hours from 9 a. m. till 5 p. m. Telephone, Black 363.

Thomas Maher brought to Jackson last week a couple of live scorpions. They were captured from a load of wood. They were of unusual size for this section, where these venomous insects are scarce anyway. They were on exhibition for a day or two in the show window of F. W. Ruhser, kept in a glass jar, where they attracted much notice from the curious. One died in a short time, the other outlived his companion only a few days.

A grass fire started on the Barton ranch adjoining the city cemetery on Sunday afternoon. The fire bell was sounded, and fire fighting apparatus hurried to the scene, but before it got there the fire was out, after burning over a few square yards of dry grass.

Superintendent Rainsford, of the Argonaut mine, has not been heard from since he left New York last month. It was his intention to get away from business cares entirely. He is not expected to return before October.

Gilbert Voorheis has succeeded in disposing of quite a block of United Wireless Telegraph stock around Jackson. There is a strong impression that this stock will eventually prove very valuable, and that the wireless system is destined to supersede the old telegraph and telephone system in the course of a few years.

Mrs. Geo. C. Morrow went up last week to the cattle range of the Ellis Bros. in the hope that the change of air and scenery would prove beneficial, as she has been in poor health for some time.

Piano for sale, little used, cash $175 sells for $190. Piano experts say good as new. Inquire Ledger office. J. D. m.

Peter Doyle, who has been visiting his brother, William Doyle of Hunt's gulch, left Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Dr. Gall was a passenger on Tuesday's stage bound for San Francisco on a visit with relatives.

A traveling show company struck Jackson unheralded on Monday and gave a performance in the hall that evening. Those who attended are unanimous in the opinion that it was the poorest apology in the amusement line that has struck this camp for a long time. The performers were greeted with jeers and hoots from beginning to end.

James Harris returned Saturday evening from a short visit to his native land, Cornwall, England. He was gone between two and three months and enjoyed the trip immensely. He was much impressed with the many changes that had taken place in the old country since he left there over thirty years ago. He was there this time in the delightful months of May and June, when nature dons her most attractive garb.

Father Walsh, accompanied by his brother, Jos. Walsh, a veterinary surgeon, who has been visiting the Murphy family near Butte for a few days, left yesterday morning. The priest returns to his charge in Chicago, and his brother goes to San Francisco.

Charley Forbes—after a period of exile of two years—has turned up in Jackson again. He left this city with a suspended sentence hanging over him. This has been his camping and stamping ground from time immemorial. When employed elsewhere he always made tracks for the county seat of Amador county to spend his time. Charley is all right except when under the influence of liquor, when he is inclined to be abusive, which often gets him into the toils of the law. He came back to Jackson to see the old town once more, and was promptly juggled on the suspended judgment that had been held over him in his long period of absence.

County assessor C. E. Jarvis has been recommended by his physician to go into the mountains for rest and surcease from business cares. He will take his family along and expects to be away several weeks. He is improving in health right along.

S. Savich, who kept the Austrian boarding house in the old Spagnoli premises on Water street, which he purchased last year for that purpose, has quit the boarding house business and left for Stockton last week. Mrs. Savich also left for Amador City, on a visit to relatives.

Sam Phear, the expressman, has a new wagon, made by the Garbarini Bros. It is just suited for the purposes of his business, and is a great improvement upon the old transfer wagon.

A. Basso, the harness man, has partitioned off a portion of his store with dust proof glass partitions, for the purposes of keeping his harness stock therein. It enables him to make display of his harness goods, of which he has always kept a good line, but heretofore was unable to show the same on account of being unprotected from dust, etc. The improvement is a decided advantage to his business.

Alex. Eudey left Sunday morning to join his family in Oakland, and expects to make his permanent home in one of the bay cities.

Miss Anna Fogarty, sister of Dr. Fogarty of this city, who has been visiting for two weeks here, left for her home in Oakland last Monday.

Mrs. Grace Crocker of Sacramento is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Oliver of Jackson during the summer months.

Mrs. C. G. Heiser and daughter Dorothy left Monday morning for Oakland, for a month's visit with relatives in that city.

Attachment—U. S. Gregory files a writ of attachment against 160 acres in 4-6-11, claimed by the Burlington G. M. Co., wherein Frank J. Siebel is plaintiff and sues for $657.

The Johnson copper mine, located two and a half miles southwest of Jackson is operated by a company of local men. The shaft is down in the neighborhood of 100 feet, and sinking will be continued for some distance, with the view of testing the ore body as to size and quality. According to reports, the prospects are deemed very favorable. The ore carries values in gold, which is perhaps the main dependence of developing a profitable mine. Some samples of the ore may be seen at the Giovanni store.

The Dornan Fire.

The adjustment of the loss by the fire in G. Dornan's dry goods store on the 5th of July is still unadjusted. The insured and the insurance companies concerned failing to agree as to the amount of damage sustained, the matter was submitted to two arbitrators, with the understanding if they failed to agree a third man was to be selected. J. P. Trainor was the arbitrator appointed by the companies, and A. Ginochio represented the insured. These two took an inventory of the stock, the task occupying two entire days. They finished their work Monday night. Their figures were then turned over to an accountant to be footed up. This work was completed Tuesday and Wednesday morning the adjuster A. F. Sewell, and Trainor left for San Francisco to submit the report to the insurance companies concerned. While the amount of loss found to have been sustained is kept secret at present, it is known that the damage far exceeded the offer of $1200 made to the insured by the adjuster, which offer was turned down by Dornan as far below the true figures. The two arbitrators were in accord in estimating the damage, so there was no necessity to call in a third party. The decision of the companies will be known in a few days.

Miss Gertrude Barker, who has been Simplex operator in the Ledger office for the past four years resigned her position the first of the month, and will leave for Oakland next Sunday to remain a few weeks.

Suit Over a Mining Claim.

The case of Frank Garibaldi et al against Grillo Bros was on trial in the superior court several days last week without a jury. It involves right of possession of a gravel mining claim on the edge of the townsite of Volcano. The Grillo brothers bought the claim a number of years ago, and have held it ever since. It is an unpatented claim, but they allege that they have done the necessary assessment work every year. Last year it was jumped by Frank Garibaldi and F. Devencenzi, they claiming that it was jumpable on the ground of non-performance of $100 in labor. Defendants contend that the labor was performed in a tunnel, which is within the limits of the mine. The case hinges on whether or not the assessment work had been done. The trial is not finished.

Death of Mrs. Neeley

Mrs. Neeley, mother of Mrs. A. Caminetti and Mrs. Hoag of Jackson, died on Monday last, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Hoag, after a short illness of acute gastritis. She was brought from the Caminetti ranch a few days before the end for the purpose of being able to secure prompt medical attendance and expert nursing. Miss Winter of Ione attended her as nurse through her fatal illness. Everything was done in the way of medical aid and attention to prevent the dread culmination but without avail. The remains were forwarded to Milton, Calaveras county, to be interred by the side of her husband. Mrs. Caminetti and other relatives went over to attend the funeral, which took place Wednesday.

Deceased was born in Boston of a well known New England family, daughter of G. E. and Mrs. Eliza Hodges. Came to California when a child. She first lived in Tuolumne county, and in early youth married Dr. R. P. Martin, and made her home in Copperopolis for many years. She is the mother of three children, the oldest, R. E. Martin, being proprietor of the livery stables in Nilton, Calaveras county.

In 1883, she was married to J. M. Neeley and made her home for many years in Milton, where the funeral was held. Services were conducted in the church presided over by the Rebekahs.

Don't let the baby suffer from eczema, sores or any itching of the skin. Doan's Ointment gives instant relief, cures quickly. Perfectly safe for children. All druggists sell it.

Wedded in Berkeley.

A wedding which may be of some interest to the people of Amador took place in Berkeley July 17th. Richard Lessley, youngest son of ex-constable James Lessley of Volcano, and Miss Maud Schweisinger, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Schweisinger of 4035 Shattuck Ave., Berkeley, were married at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Schweisinger is a brunette of surpassing beauty and charm of manner, and Richard is receiving many congratulations on his good fortune in obtaining such a charming life partner.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a pearl gray traveling suit and large picture hat. Her bridesmaid wore a lovely tan traveling suit and large hat also. Mr. Eastman acted as best man. After the ceremony the guests sat down to a sumptuous repast. The bride and groom were heartily praised and toasted, and after a half hour of music the happy couple left amid a shower of rice and old shoes. The newly married couple will take a short trip on the coast, after their return they will reside in Berkeley.

The wedding presents were many and beautiful. The firm of W. P. Fuller & Co., with which the happy groom is connected, presented them with a solid silver service.—Correspondent.

Miss Kate Spohn of San Francisco is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Langhorst.

Mrs. J. Mori and daughter Mary, who came up from Stockton to attend the funeral of Mamie Cassinelli last week, have returned to their home.

Lawrence Cassinelli came from Goldfield to attend the funeral of his sister Mamie, and started on the return trip last Monday.

Phil Roberts, who for many years worked at the Zeila, but who was recently appointed foreman of the Fremont mine, near Drytown, will move his family to the vicinity of the mine in a few days. The residence in Jackson has been rented to Mr. Griggs.

A NATION OF SAVERS.

Frenchmen Are Thrifty and Invest in Government Bonds.

If you were a Frenchman with a very small surplus to invest, if even that surplus were but a modest franc, you might become the holder of a French government bond. From the cradle to the grave the French subject is taught to save and to turn his earnings into safe income producing account, says Charles Speare in the Review of Reviews.

The state pays a premium on thrift. It rewards its school children for various good performances with a tiny bank deposit which invariably will have grown into goodly size when the recipient has reached maturity. Having nursed its people through the early stages of economy, it directs their steps in the choice of investments and even assumes paternal power in arbitrarily transforming the savings bank account into government bonds or rents. Thrift is a national characteristic. France is a nation of little savers, of little incomes and of little farms.

Collectively these exercise a tremendous power on the affairs of Europe. The holder of the one or two franc bond and the possessor of the bank account, so small that bankers of other countries would scorn it, have built up a monetary power that commands the respect of the world and indeed regulates the finances and politics of much more presumptuous nations. Bonds of states and governments, of railroads with a government guarantee, bonds of cities and towns, of mortgage companies, are the Frenchman's choice. It is safe to say that in Paris coupons are cut from the bonds of nearly every government under the sun.

AN INNOCENT VICTIM.

Swinburne and the Crouchy Head Master of Eton.

Once when Algernon Charles Swinburne was traveling back with his father from school at the end of one of the terms they entered a carriage in which the then head master of Eton, who was buried in the Times, was seated.

"Isn't that Dr. —?" the admiral whispered to his son. "I believe it is," stammered young Swinburne reluctantly. After a rebuke at the apparently careless answer the admiral "accosted the awful presence" with "Dr. —, I believe, sir?" The doctor was plainly annoyed at being disturbed by a stranger. "Well, sir," pursued the admiral, "my boy here has just finished his first term at Eton, and I should very much like to know what account you can give of him." As a matter of fact, the doctor had not set eyes on young Swinburne before. "Enraged, however, I suppose," Swinburne afterward related, "at my father's rather unconventional interruption, which he had no doubt considered a slight on his dignity, he glanced down at me with a scarlet face and said liberally, 'Your boy, sir—your boy is one of the very worst in the school,' and then intrenched himself once more behind the Times."

At Paddington there was a storm. In vain young Swinburne protested that the doctor had said what he had out of pure vexation, but the father declared that he would take the word of the head master, and Swinburne was deprived of all pleasures and privileges for the duration of the holiday.—Dundee Advertiser.

A Palpable Hit.

"Now, sir," demanded counsel for the defendant, "tell us what time this alleged robbery took place."
"You had better ask your client," retorted the plaintiff. "He had my watch!"

He dwells nowhere who dwells everywhere.—Martial.

Notice for Publication.—01998.

Department of the Interior, U. S. Land Office at Sacramento, Cal. June 16, 1909.

Notice is hereby given that George R. Fitzgerald of Volcano, Calif., who, on May 13, 1904, made H. E. No. 7693, for SE 1/4 of SW 1/4 Sec. 15, E. 1/2 of NW 1/4 and SW 1/4 of NW 1/4, Section 22 Township 7 N., Range 12 E., Mount Diablo Meridian, has filed notice of intention to make final five year proof, to establish claim to the land above described, before the U. S. Commissioner for Amador county, Calif., at his office in Jackson, Cal., on the 31st day of July 1909.

Claimant names as witnesses: M. Robinson, David Robinson, George Miller and C. P. Jordan all of Volcano, Calif.

JOHN F. ARMSTRONG, Register.

One of Edison's Jokes.
Edison was always a great joke player. Those ones he seemed to enjoy most were like the one he worked on one of the laziest operators in the office where he was once employed. One night, when this fellow thought his day's work was over and was getting ready to go home, Edison slipped around to the office switchboard, made a connection with the lazy fellow's telegraph key, called him down to the table and, supplied with an old newspaper, proceeded to send Mr. Lazy a long lot of presumably Associated Press stuff from New York. Edison was a lightning sander (as well as receiver) from almost the beginning of his career, and the way he made that fellow work for two solid hours was a joy. After wearing him completely out, making him receive and copy the equivalent of about three or four newspaper columns, Edison suddenly came from behind the switchboard, exposed the joke to the poor fellow and wound up by pelting him on the nose with the newspaper he had been sending from.—Pearson's.

Scolded and Comforted.
At a lunch given in his honor Sven Hedin read an amusing letter written to him by Alfred Nobel at a time when Hedin was still a student, but already filled with a longing to explore unknown Asia. He applied to the government for funds, but the answer was so slow in coming that he wrote to Nobel, who promptly replied: "I take no interest in these geographical exploration trips. In fact, I regard them as an anachronism. Men communicate with each other today from one end of the earth to the other by means of telegraph and post. There are in Asia, too, explorers and savants who are surely better qualified than you, sir, to study and describe their native country. I therefore believe that you could make better use of your ambitious impulses than by undertaking trips to Asia. But in order that you may see that I do not always act as I think I send you a sum which may serve as the best confutation of my own convictions."

Squandering Ability.
Doing the lower when the higher is possible constitutes one of the greatest tragedies of human life. The squandering of money seems a wicked thing when we think of the good that might be done with it. But what about the wicked waste of ability, the deliberate throwing away of 50, 75, perhaps 90 per cent of one's success possibly just because he never trained himself to use it, to grasp it with such vigor and power that he can fling his life into his career with its maximum effectiveness? Most people take hold of life with the tips of their fingers. They never get hold of the life proposition with that grip and tenacity of purpose and vigor of determination which do things worth while. They just hang on the outskirts of things, playing upon the surface of their possibilities without ever getting down into the marrow of their being, where efficiency and power dwell.—Orison Swett Marden in Success Magazine.

Exclusive Perfumes.
The late Dr. Andrew Wynter in a charming article on perfumes suggested the desirability of every lady having her own special and self prepared perfume. The custom, however, would have its disadvantages. More than one sensational story might be mentioned wherein the heroine or villain was saved or unmasked, as the case might be, by the recognition of a distinctive scent. In "Diplomacy" the denouement is effected by the telltale perfume of the adventures being detected in the dispatch box she had rifled. As a matter of history, the assassins of the oriental sovereign Yezdijird were discovered by one of them smelling of the perfume with which the robes of the murdered king had been redolent.—London Globe.

Hope.
"Have you seen the account in this morning's papers about Dr. Cutting having brought a dead man back to life?"
"No. Did he do that?"
"Yes. It was a wonderful demonstration of his skill."
"Well, I shall be more hopeful now than I have been for some time. If he can bring the dead back to life he may be able to bring back the book he borrowed from me about two years ago."
—Chicago Record-Herald.

Begging in Paris.
Giving up his profession, a Paris beggar offers his "pitch" for sale. His advertisement reads: "For sale, present holder retiring to the country, good situation for one legged man; neighborhood of the Etoile; hours of work, 2 p. m. to 7 p. m.; receipts, $2.40 to $3.15; regular passersby, children and strangers; or any infirmity would suit."

A Feminine Reason.
"But," asked the first co-ed, "why did you elect to take up the study of German instead of French?"
"Oh," replied the other, "the German professor was so awfully handsome, you know."—Catholic Standard and Times.

The Complaint.
A magistrate looked at a disreputable specimen of manhood in the dock and turned to the policeman. "Officer," he asked, "what is the complaint?"
"Rheumatiz, y'r honor!" exclaimed the prisoner, answering for himself.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Nurse and Nursery Combined.
A recent visitor to Brittany describes in the New Orleans Times Democrat the two story closed bed of the Breton peasant, in many cases a richly carved and ornamented heirloom and always highly prized.
One day the visitor was expressing her admiration of a certain "lit-clos," when madam pulled the sliding panels apart and revealed the figure of her husband sleepily rubbing his eyes and wanting to know what was the matter. She calmly explained to him that the visitor wanted to see the inside of the bed and then explained to the visitor that her good man had been out fishing since dawn and was very tired. The visitor begged him to close the panels and go to sleep again, which he immediately did, but not before she noticed that he was fully dressed. It seems that the Breton peasant always disappears into the "lit-clos" fully dressed and always emerges therefrom in the same condition. While her husband slept madam enlarged on the advantages of a "lit-clos" in bringing up a family.
"I have had six children," she said, "and when they were little I used to put three in the top story and three in the bottom, then close the panels and leave them with an easy mind."

A Singular Meal.
One of the most singular meals ever eaten was that given to a select few by an antiquary named Goebel in Brussels some years ago. The bread was made from wheat grown before the children of Israel passed out of Egypt, and it was spread with butter made when Elizabeth ruled England. For fruit there were apples which ripened before the Christian era, and the wine was older than the white man's knowledge of the new world. The bread was made from wheat taken from a chamber in one of the pyramids, the butter (of which there were several pounds) had been found in an earthen crock on a stone shelf under the icy waters of a well in Scotland. A pantry in the ruins of Pompeii had furnished the jar of apples (which were as sweet and finely flavored as if only a few months old), and the flagon of wine had been recovered from an old vault in Corinth. Six guests enjoyed this amazing meal.—Chicago News.

The Englishman and His "Bawth."
"I had a bachelor apartment at one time with an Englishman, who was always talking about his 'bawth, you know,'" said a New York banker. "The first thing of a morning he said: 'I must take my bawth, you know. Really, now, I must take my bawth—haw, haw!'"
"He did so much talking about his 'bawth' that I stayed one morning to see him take it—to see if it was different from the bath of the American."
"It was. This is what he did: First he spread a soft towel at the bottom of the bathtub, then turned on the water until it was about two inches high.
"So as not to chill my feet, you know—haw, haw!" he explained to me.
"Then he stood on the soft towel in the two inches of water, turned on the spray, sprang through it, leaped out and rushed for a towel.
"He had taken his 'bawth, you know—haw, haw!'"—Washington Post.

Doors In China.
In China doors are often round, leaf shaped or semicircular. In placing them the builder usually avoids having one opposite another lest evil spirits find their way from the street into the recesses of the building. The doorways separating the courts of a garden are usually of an elaborate kind, and the octagonal form is one of the most popular. Religious superstition asserts itself in Chinese architecture, and the universal sacredness of the numerals 3 and 9 is shown in the arrangement of temple doors. There is a triple gateway to each of the halls of the imperial palace, and the same order prevails at the Ming tombs. The Temple of Heaven has a triple roof, a triple marble staircase, and all its mystic symbolism points either to 3 or its multiples.

The Color of Lakes.
Some lakes are distinctly blue, others are of various shades of green, so that in some cases they are scarcely distinguishable from their level, grass surrounded banks. A few, too, are almost black. The Lake of Geneva is azure hued, the Lake of Constance and the Lake of Lucerne are green, while the color of the Mediterranean has been called indigo. The Lake of Brienz is greenish yellow, and its neighbor, Lake Thun, is blue.

Fashion, Not Health.
In nine cases out of ten, says the Iowa Health Bulletin, if a physician tells a woman that in order to improve her health she must wear her clothes in a certain way she will follow the advice of her dressmaker instead.

A Total Abstinence.
Excited Individual—Is this where they swear people? Commissioner For Oaths—Yes, sir. What can I do for you? Excited Individual—I want to take an oath never to put down another carpet.—London Telegraph.

Accommodating Him.
Youth—Oh, I don't want to take that character. I'll make a fool of myself sure. Maiden—Well, you said you wanted an easy part.—Detroit Free Press.

Chased by a Sea Serpent.
"Ever see a sea serpent?"
"I was chased by one once."
"What did you do?"
"Got up and lit the gas."—Pittsburg Post

Lit 100,000 Years Ago
Scientists have found in a cave in Switzerland bones of men, who lived 100,000 years ago, when life was in constant danger from wild beasts. To-day the danger, as shown by A. W. Brown of Alexander, Me., is largely from deadly disease. "If it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, which cured me, I could not have lived," he writes, "suffering as I did from a severe lung trouble and stubborn cough." To cure sore lungs, colds, obstinate coughs, and prevent pneumonia, it's the best medicine on earth. 50c and $1. Guaranteed by Spagnoli's Drug Store. Trial bottle free.

KNOW HIS BUSINESS.

The Little Boy Was Thoroughly Pested on the Elevator.
"Little boy," exclaimed the portly lady, "you ought to be at school instead of trying to work a lift."
"I'm not trying to work it," was the answer. "I am working it, and if you wish to ride I shall be happy to accommodate you. So far as any obligation to be at school is concerned, allow me to remind you that this is a legal holiday, and I am exempt from attendance at an institution where, I am pleased to say, I am at the head of my class."
"You have no business trying to work that lift, anyhow."
"For what reason?"
"Because you are too young to know anything about it."
"Madam, allow me to reassure you. This lift is worked by hydraulic pressure, the principle relied on being that water exerts pressure in proportion to the height of a column rather than in proportion to the diameter. In making use of this characteristic water is admitted into a cylinder, the pressure being regulated by the use of valves and a stable equilibrium being made possible by an ingenious system of counterpoises. I could go further into the minutiae of this particular machine, which of course has its variations from other models," he added as she gasped in astonishment, "but I doubt if you could follow the technical terms whose use an accurate description would necessitate, but I wish to assure you that if, after what I have said, you think you know more about this lift than I do you are at perfect liberty to step in and take its management out of my hands."—Pearson's.

Help for Those Who Have Stomach Trouble

After doctoring for about twelve years for a bad stomach trouble, and spending nearly five hundred dollars for medicine and doctors' fees, I purchased my wife one box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which did her so much good that she continued to use them and they have done her more good than all of the medicine I bought before.—Samuel Boyer, Wolsom, Iowa. This medicine is for sale by Jackson Drug Store, Spagnoli, Prop. Samples free.

A Test Question.

Tortured on a Horse
"For ten years I couldn't ride a horse without being in torture from piles," writes L. S. Napire, of Rutgers, Ky., "when all doctors and other remedies failed, Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured me." Infallible for piles, burns, scalds, cuts, boils, fever-sores, eczema, salt rheum, corns. 25c. Guaranteed by Jackson Drug Store, Spagnoli, prop.

Little Barbara's Complaint.
Four-year-old Barbara went to church with her two sisters and came home crying.
"What is the matter, dear?" inquired her mother.
"He preached a whole s-sermon—about—M-Mary and Martha," sobbed Barbara, "and—never said—a—w-word about me."—Lippincott's.

Work Fascinating.
There is an indescribable fascination about work. The laziest man in town will stand watching with evident enjoyment the labors of a street gang laying pavement.—Fort Worth Record.

Suits the Case.
"That prisoner over yonder, warden, has rather a mischievous look."
"Do you think so?"
"Yes, quite a roguish expression."—Baltimore American.

To me the meaneast flower that blows can give thoughts that do often lie too deep for tears.—Wordsworth.

Boy's Life Saved
My little boy, four years old, had a severe attack of dysentery. We had two physicians; both of them gave him up. We then gave him Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy which cured him and believe that saved his life.—William H. Stroiling, Carbon Hill, Ala. There is no doubt but this remedy saves the lives of many children each year. Give it with castor oil according to the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by Jackson Drug Store, Spagnoli, prop.

What the Professor Wanted
The professor steps into the barber chair and assumes an attitude of pre-meditation.
"Hair cut, sir?"
"Please!" The barber cuts his hair.
"Like a shampoo?"
"Um—please!" He gets the shampoo.
"Shave you, sir?"
"Um—yes!" One shave.
"Massage?" He nods assent and consequently is massaged. The barber removes the towel; the professor arises and mechanically takes the proffered check.
"What's this?"
"Your check, sir."
"My check?"
"Certainly, sir—hair cut, shampoo, shave and massage."
The professor rubs his hand over face and head.
"Did I get all that?"
"Surely, sir."
"It's queer—very queer—most extraordinarily queer! A most wonderful example of philosophical phenomena!"
"What's queer?" asks the barber in dismay.
"Why, the working of the human mind. What I came in for was to get my razor honed."—Puck.

What Constitutes Baseball?
The essential apparatus of baseball is simple and inexpensive. All that is required is a field, a stick, the ball itself and police protection for the umpire. One advantage of the game as played professionally is that those sitting in the grand stand can play the game a great deal better than the eighteen men on the diamond. It is also true that any one of the spectators, even though perched on a telephone pole across the street or looking through a knothole in the fence beyond right field, can judge of the pitcher's skill or the runner's fleetness much more intelligently than the arbiter who stands behind the battery. The great merit of the game is that the people can participate in it. It is not like bridge whist. Its science is not synonymous with silence. The thing to do is to take off your coat and root as long and as loudly as you can, even if you don't know what is happening.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Taking It Out In Trade.
The proprietor of a certain Turkish bath establishment, seeing a strong looking young man working in a butcher's shop and being impressed by his magnificent muscles, told him to resign and take a rubber's position with him.
"I'll give you more than you are getting now," he said.
The young butcher, resigning in good faith, turned up the next morning at the bath house.
"Well," said the proprietor to him, "I'll put you on at once. What did you get at the butcher's?"
"Six dollars and my week's meat," returned the young man.
"What did that amount to?"
"About $3."
"Well," said the proprietor, "I offered you more to come here, didn't I? I'll give you $6 in money and $4 worth of baths weekly. That is a dollar more than you got at your old place."

Dutch Engagements.
A custom among the Dutch is the exchanging of engagement rings, which are narrow bands of plain gold, with the initials of the betrothed and the day of the betrothal engraved on the inside. They are worn on the left hand before and on the right after marriage. Dutch engagements extend over a period of from two to five years. During this time the young woman gives up all amusements in which her fiancé does not participate. If he is not of the dancing sort she refrains from that recreation, however much she may desire to engage in it. She never goes in company anywhere if he is not present, and when they go together to a ball no gentleman will ever ask her to dance without formally gaining his permission.—London Scraps.

The Sure Thing.
A theatrical manager once offered a famous actress $1,000 a week to make a tour of the world. She insisted on $1,500. But the manager said $1,000 was all he could give, and he reminded her of the fabulous jewels that South American millionaires, Russian grand dukes and Indian rajahs are wont to lavish on the ladies of the stage when they are touring.
"Go home," said the manager; "think the matter over and let me know your decision in the morning."
In the morning the actress sent the manager this message:
"Give me my terms and you can have the jewels."

ANY LADY can easily make from $18.00 to $25.00 per week working for me quietly in her own home locality. This is a bona fide offer—one which will pay you to investigate, even if you can only spare two hours per day. No investment required. Turn your spare time into money. Write me at once for particulars. Address HARRIET M. RICHARDS, Box 30, Woman's Building, Joliet, Illinois. jy 17—1m.

Metals New to the Arts.—The Warm Bath for Plants.—Medicines Tropical Triumphs.—As the Moon Sees Us.—Ubiquitous Pulp.—New Rubber from Old.—Uniform Time by Wireless.—When Eros Comes.—Steel Plated Iron.

Quite a number of rare metals have been put to use in recent years. Geissen, a German metallurgist, mentions that thorium, employed for incandescent gas burners, chiefly comes from Brazil, a little being obtained in the United States. The tantalum minerals, tantalite and columbite, supplying filaments for electric lamps, are obtained in the United States and Australia. Zirconium, in zirconia and gadolinite, is also used in the Nernst and Wedgwood lamps. Vanadium, from the United States and Mexico, enters into the steel frames of motor cars. Uranium ores, yielding radium, are derived from Joachimsthal in Bohemia, Molybdenum, from Queensland and Canada, is used in a fine steel for tools or arms and for alloying with nickel. Tungsten, of importance in certain steels, is furnished by Queensland in wolframite, a mineral found also in Cornwall, the United States, Canada and Bolivia.

In the warm bath method of forcing plants, as proposed by Prof. H. Molisch, the stems of the dormant plant are soaked ten to fifteen hours in water at 15 deg. to 30 deg. C. (59 deg. to 86 deg. F.), and the plant is then placed in a warm, moist chamber, and eventually transferred to a greenhouse. The stimulation of some plants seems to be much like that produced by ether vapor. Forsythia, Spiraea, Syringa and other plants that are usually forced gave very favorable results; Azalea mollis and Camellia japonica were but little affected; and no practical benefit was exerted on Maricissus bulbs.

The stamping out of tropical diseases ranks among the most remarkable of recent achievements. At the first annual dinner of the Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene, held in London, it was stated that sleeping sickness alone has caused half a million deaths in Uganda; but since the discovery of the way it is spread the ravages have been reduced 90 per cent. Yellow fever has disappeared from the West Indies. In the Isthmian zone, 48,000 employees of M. de Lesseps died, but no case of yellow fever has occurred on the canal in the last three years.

Since the days of Leonardo da Vinci, four centuries ago, it has been recognized that the light seen on the portion of the moon turned away from the sun is "earth-shine," but it is only recently that observers have begun to take notice of the image reflected in this most gigantic mirror known to man. From this reflection it is now being seen that the earth as viewed from the moon must be a gorgeously colored object of marvelous and ever-changing beauty. A study of the earth-shine has convinced Wilhelm Krebs, a German astronomer, that variations of its brightness at different seasons are due to changes in the cloudiness and snowfall on the reflecting surface of the earth, and this suggests an explanation of the various pale tints sometimes seen in the earth light. The blue, green and yellow are evident due to reflections of the sun's light from ocean foliage and deserts respectively. In the early part of last year Herr Krebs detected another color—that seemed to him reddish but to others was violet or lilac,—and at the same time an unusual prevalence of cirrus clouds and brilliant red sunsets was noticed on the earth. It was concluded that the red reflections came from the red zone of twilight encircling the "full earth." In the full moon we see the cold brilliant glare of a dead, changeless globe; but to the lunarians—real or imaginary—is presented the contrasting picture of a great, living world, of four times the diameter shown by the moon to us, with slowly altering land and moving water and an incessant changing panorama of cloud and snowfield and vegetation, flooded in an atmosphere of constantly varying refraction of the sun's rays.

Paper is now used for roofs, clothing, water bottles, grain bags and other odd purposes. A new paper horse-shoe is recommended for its great durability and lightness, and for its safety for the hoof, as it is attached with cement instead of nails. The reinforced paper of two German engineers is claimed to be a superior material for warships, automobiles, railways and street pavements. It is made of paper pulp, canvas, linen and raw silk, reinforced with steel wire, and is light, waterproof and fireproof.

A new German process of reclaiming rubber—recommended for its small use of solvent—consists in heating fragments of old vulcanized rubber goods with one-fifth of their weight of aniline. The recovered rubber can be vulcanized.

One of the next developments is likely to be the establishing of wireless telegraph clocks in cities. At Vienna, where the Reithofer Morawetz system has been under test several years, the time signals are sent each minute from the regulating clock at the central station to three receiving stations in the city and suburbs, and the service seems to have continued satisfactorily and without interruption. At the sending station, a wheel having 60 teeth is moved forward one tooth each second under the control of a seconds pendulum. Once in each revolution—that is, once a minute—the wheel closes the wireless transmitter circuit, and the aerial waves sent out affect the circuits of the electric clocks at the receiving stations, advancing the minute hands one division. Each clock circuit is automatically closed about 1/4 second before each minute signal is received and opened 1/4 second after the minute. In this way other wireless waves are prevented from interfering, as if an outside impulse should happen to be received while the local clock circuit is closed, the only effect would be to cause the minute hand to make a single advance a fraction of a second too soon.

An astronomical event of greater interest than even the return of Halley's comet is being eagerly anticipated already, although still more than a score of years in the future; and the Astrophysical Congress just held in Paris resolved to begin observing preparations a once. The little planet Eros, discovered as a sixth magnitude star in 1898, has an orbit so eccentric that at times it may come nearer the earth than Mars—or any other heavenly body except the moon—can approach. In 1900 Eros was within about 31,000,000 miles of us, but in 1931 it will be only 15,500,000 miles away. The chief importance of this near coming is the unique opportunity it will give for a more accurate determination of the solar parallax and of the mass of the earth and the moon.

The steel-coated iron lately brought out in Europe is made by first rolling the iron to the required shapes and then applying the steel in any desired thickness. The combination of the wearing qualities of steel with the flexibility of iron is claimed to be of special advantage for such purposes as car wheels and structural iron, and the process is said to give great strength and a great saving in cost.

COMMON SENSE

Leads most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrappers and attest its correctness under oath, are daily growing in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody. Dr. Pierce being desirous of having the search light of investigation aimed fully upon his formulae, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that) yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hang-on-coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.

Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time to get its full benefits. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of lay, or non-professional, testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

Constipation causes headache, nausea, dizziness, languor, heart palpitation. Drastic physics gripe, sicken, weaken the bowels and don't cure. Doan's Regulators act gently and cure constipation. 25 cents. Ask your druggist.

STOPPED THE NOISE.

A Chemist's Suggestion to a Maker of Prussian Blue.

The great German chemist, Liebig, related that when he was a young man a manufacturer of prussian blue who was showing him through the works drew his attention to the deafening noise made by certain comminuting and mixing machines. These machines consisted of large iron mortars in which iron pestles were actuated by machinery. The pestles pounded the materials to a fine condition and mixed them. On Liebig's suggesting that some means ought to be devised to prevent the terrible din made by the machines the manufacturer told him that it was a singular fact that the more noise the pestles made the better was the blue produced. It happens that in making prussian blue iron is a necessary constituent of the mixture, a fact that did not seem to be thoroughly appreciated by the manufacturer. He was therefore much surprised when Liebig told him that the iron which was necessary to produce the color was rubbed off his machinery, the most extravagant way to supply it. He understood for the first time, moreover, why it was that the greater the noise from the friction of the pestles in the mortars the better the blue produced. He thus learned in an expensive way that it was better manufacturing to put iron into the mixture than to grind it off high priced machinery.—Frederick J. Maywald in American Industries.

The Lark's Song.
A writer on "The Wonders of the Spring" says that the volume of sound produced by the skylark is most wonderful. "The lark ascends until it appears no larger than a midge and can with difficulty be seen by the unaided eye, and yet every note of its song will be clearly audible to persons who are fully half a mile from the nest over which the bird utters its song. Moreover, it never ceases to sing for a moment, a feat which seems wonderful to us human beings, who find that a song of six or seven minutes in length, though interspersed with rests and pauses, is more than trying. Yet this bird will pour out a continuous song of nearly twenty minutes in length and all the time has to support itself in the air by the constant use of its wings."

Still Held the Grudge.
Medium (at seance)—Is there a Mrs. Kersmith in the audience? Her first husband wishes to converse with her.
Mrs. Kersmith—There is, but you can tell him I don't care to have any confabulations with him. Tell him that when I went to collect his life insurance I found he'd let it lapse.—Chicago Tribune.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Cruelty to an Infant
E. A. Liebeshar, a camper near Shaws Flat, Tuolumne county, is under arrest for brutal treatment of his 13 months old infant. He arrived at Shaws flat from Fresno county about six weeks before. His wife returned to Fresno to nurse her sick mother, leaving the child with the father. Early last week Fred Sutton, probation officer of the juvenile court, was informed that the child had been cruelly treated by its parent. He repaired to the place and was horrified to find that the father had sewed two pearl buttons, each the size of a dime, on the top and under side of the infant's tongue, using ordinary thread to hold them in place. A darning needle was used in the sewing process. The baby in the arms of the scoundrel was taken to Dr. E. F. Gould and the adhesive buttons were cut off, during which process of emancipation the child never uttered a sound. The father was escorted to the court house, and the child placed in charge of Mrs. Bauman. The unhuman father appeared at the house in the evening wanting to see the baby. Not suspecting, his request was granted. He fondled the child for an hour or more, and watching his opportunity he made his escape with the child into the brush. He was afterwards captured in Madera—fifty miles away from Shaws flat—having the baby in a sack, and he is supposed to have packed it all that distance in less than 24 hours. The child was well and seemingly had been well cared for by the father.

Weighing one and three quarters pounds, at Providence hospital, Oakland, is the smallest fully developed baby ever born in this state, so far as available records show. The child, a girl, is now over a week old, being born on July 5th, to Mrs. John Legris, and the physicians declare that it has the baby's usual chance of mature years. So small is it that it has been found impossible to keep it in the usual wrappings, for fear of injuring it. So it has been given a bed of down on a steam coil, heated to the proper temperature. Its head is about the size of an English walnut while its arm is so tiny that its mother's wedding ring can be slipped over the hand and arm up to the shoulder.—Sonora Banner.

The Echo learns that Clark Hubbell the engineer who died recently at the copper mine, had a $10,000 life insurance, which is now in process of collection.—Echo.

The auto stage between Jackson and Sacramento now comes by way of Ione, the Plymouth road proving too rough. It makes the round trip each day, leaving Jackson at 7 a. m.—Echo.

The Ingomar mine at Campo Seco showing some fine rock at the bottom of the new shaft and things look very promising. Mr. McClintock's mine is prospecting good. The quartz is being hauled to the Penn smelter. The copper mine and smelter are running full blast.—Citizen.

It is learned this morning that last evening, in an attempt to escape from the Preston School, one of the boys assaulted Officer Strong with an ax. The boy was soon captured and Dr. Adams attended the injured officer. How seriously the officer is injured the Echo was unable to learn.—Echo.

What is Ione's loss is Galt's gain. The train crew, including the engineer and fireman, conductor and two brakemen and a night watchman of the Amador Branch Railroad, and their families will make their homes in Galt in the future. The change took place on the 15th instant. The morning train pulls out at Galt now at 7:30 as a freight and accommodation, and returns from Ione at 11:30 a. m. as a passenger. It leaves here shortly after 2:00 p. m. for Ione and returns a little after 5:00 p. m. as a freight and accommodation.—Galt Gazette.

At the meeting of the trustees of the Ione Union High School held on Saturday, July 10th, H. D. Ranlett was elected president, Chas. H. Henderson secretary, and John Q. Horton a member of the executive committee. Dr. R. H. Van Horn was re-elected principal and the two assistant teachers are now being selected by him. Percy Stewart was elected janitor.—Echo.

According to information received in Nevada City H. G. Torrence, the man who was here something over a year ago examining the Champion mine, is operating on the Mother Lode in Amador county on a large scale. He has taken hold of some important properties there and is making a number of improvements, placing several hundred thousand dollars. It is understood that John McE. Ross, who experted the Champion mine and whose home is in Amador county, succeeded in getting Torrence into that district. Torrence represents large English capital which is constantly seeking investment in mines.—Nevada Transcript.

THROW OUT THE LINE

Give the Kidneys Help and Many Jackson People Will Be Happier.
"Throw Out the Life Line"—The kidneys need help. They're overworked—can't get the poison filtered out of the blood. They're getting worse every minute. Will you help them? Doan's Kidney Pills have brought thousands of kidney sufferers back from the verge of despair. Will cure any form of kidney trouble.
George McKeen, 416 Nineteenth St., Sacramento, Calif., says: "My kidneys were disordered for a long time, causing acute pains through my loins. In spite of all the doctoring I did, I found no relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They gradually removed the symptoms of my trouble and before I realized it, I was cured. The years that have elapsed have only served to strengthen my opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills and I am glad to say I have never suffered from kidney complaint since."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
